FlashLine ID (username)

Your FlashLine ID is assigned to you by the university. As part of the admission process, new students should receive a letter that provides your ID and other information.

The FlashLine ID is the first part of your Kent State University e-mail address.

If your e-mail address is: bcubbins@kent.edu, your FlashLine ID would be: bcubbins.

If you do not know your ID, you can look it up in the campus phone directory at www.kent.edu/phonedirectory.

Default FlashWord

The first time you log in to FlashLine, you will use a default FlashWord (a password assigned by the university) to access the system. After logging in successfully, you will need to change the default to a personal FlashWord of your choice.

Determine your default FlashWord

Your default FlashWord is a 10-character code determined by the formula: #AMMMYYSSSS.

Character	Description	Write Your Flashword Here
#A	The first letter of your middle name (Use 'X' if you do not have a middle name.)
#MMM	The first three letters of your birth month
#YY	The last two numbers of your birth year
#SSSS	The last four numbers of your social security number
