

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT

Spring 2009

PROFESSOR A'ISHA AJAYI

Kent State University—College of Business

Course Description

Systems management refers to enterprise-wide administration of distributed computer systems. Systems management is strongly influenced by network management initiatives in telecommunications. System management may involve one or more of the following tasks:

- Hardware inventories
- Server availability monitoring and metrics
- Software inventory and installation
- Anti-virus and anti-malware management

These tasks are categorized in the following manner:

- User's activities monitoring
- Capacity monitoring
- Security management
- Storage management
- Network capacity and utilization monitoring

Time management is perhaps the most important skill needed for successful completion of the course.

About the Paper

A ten (10) page paper will be required as part of this course. The 10 pages are counted from introduction to conclusions.

Students are responsible for topic selection.

Required Elements:

- Headings, titles, etc.
- Introduction and conclusion
- Page numbers
- MLA or other standard citations
- Table of contents

- List of acronyms
- Bibliography
- List of figures

Please note that you must demonstrate your topic choice within the context of current business applications or environments.

The following metrics will be used to determine your grade for this element:

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| • Technical depth and accuracy | 20% |
| • Written communications | 20% |
| • Organization and flow | 20% |
| • Integration of theory and practices | 20% |
| • Execution | 20% |

Exams

Four exams and a final are required as part of this course. These elements are designed to test the student's mastery of lectures, readings and theory related to the disciplines of communications and networking. The following question formats will be used on exams:

- Fill-in or short answer
- Matching
- Multiple choice
- Acronyms

Please note that the instructor will return each exam no later than 1 week from its scheduled date. The instructor will not answer any questions during the exam. No make-ups or rescheduling of the exams is permitted. A grade of 0 will be given if an exam is missed.

From the Instructor

Information Systems Management can be a difficult subject to master in a single semester or session. Reading assigned materials prior to lectures will help increase your mastery of associated theory and practices.
